MYSTERY LIGHT

The "LIGHT" has defied explanation since it was first sighted many years ago, although theories abound. To observe the phenomenon, drive north from Watersmeet on U.S. 45 for 4 miles toward the neighboring village of Paulding, and take Robbins Pond Road for a short distance west. This unimproved rural lane was once part of a military road authorized by Abraham Lincoln during the Civil War in anticipation of a British attack through Canada.

Surrounded by dense woods and from the summit of nearby hills, the mysterious light can be observed almost every night once darkness has descended on the northern wilderness. It appears to rise slowly out of the forest and then hovers low in the sky for varying intervals - ranging from a couple of minutes to over a quarter of an hour. Often described as looking like a "bright star" it first seems to be a campfire ember, reaching an intense reddish glow. then becoming a haze and finally receding to a mere spark before disappearing into Explanations vary from fanciful to factual. Some say it's the spirit of a long dead mail carrier ambushed by Indians over a century ago. Others insist it is the ghost of an engineer killed in a nearby railroad accident in years gone by. One woman thinks it's a mystical sign of religious significance. In the meantime, "THE MYSTERY LIGHT" continues to baffle, intrigue and mystify the visitor.

Directions to the Paulding Light - Take State Highway 45 north out of Watersmeet, Michigan for about 5 miles. Look for "Robbins Pond Road" (old State Highway 45) on the left as the road begins a slow bend to the right. There is usually a sign right before the road. Turn left on Robbins Pond Road. Follow that gravel road about 3/8 of a mile till you come to the dead-end barricade. During the summer months, you will also see a National Park Service sign there.

Excellent fishing for walleye, musky, northern pike, bass and panfish provides long days of enjoyment. The state record silver musky came from Thousand Island Lake. A day boating on the Cisco Chain can take you to both Michigan and Wisconsin. Resort facilities range from modest to deluxe to satisfy the most discriminating visitor in all seasons.
